UDL in 15 Minute - Episode 7

January 2, 2018

Hello, and welcome to UDL in 15 minutes where educators discuss their experiences with UDL. I'm Loui Lord Nelson, UDL author and leader. Some educators have returned to the classroom while others are still on holiday break. Either way, there will be a number of distractions for the next two weeks, so for today's episode I am posting a discussion guide at my website, www.theudlapproach.com/media, that can be used with past and future episodes. Here's to a 2019 full of learning about and growing through UDL. And, as always, thanks to everyone for your work in revolutionizing education through UDL and making it our goal to develop expert learners.
