A NEW Podcast: UDL Research in 15 Minutes

Hello and welcome to UDL in 15 minutes where educators discuss their experiences with UDL. I'm Loui Lord Nelson, UDL author and leader. While I'm not publishing an interview today, I'm excited to announce a new podcast called UDL Research in 15 Minutes where researchers share their findings about the implementation, impact, and their introspective investigations of the UDL framework.

Because the question, "Is there any research about UDL?" is still asked, I'm out to interview as many published UDL researchers as I can. And I promise you, the researchers and I will have interesting conversations about them, about the research, and about the collective role of educators in research.

And, whether you're new to UDL or you've been working with the framework for a while, my first guest is going to knock your socks off. I will make an announcement via Twitter and through my email list to let you know when the first episode will air. You can follow me using @LouiLordNelson or join my mailing list by using the "contact me" form at www.theudlapproach.com.

Finally, if you are a UDL researcher or know of UDL research you'd like to hear about, contact me through my website, www.theudlapproach.com. I'd love to hear from you! And thanks to everyone for your work in revolutionizing education through UDL and making it our goal to develop expert learners.
